

Wi-Fi Calling on your Cell phone

SDWISP's low latency network allows you to make and receive cell calls over the internet via your home Wi-Fi network without any additional hardware. This is a feature that most cell phone providers now support on 2016 or newer smart phones. Please check with your cell provider to enable Wi-Fi Calling

Micro Cells are being phase out and is the old way of making cell call over the internet.

Posted Oct 2018